Programme

The teacher-learner relationship is fundamentally based on cooperation, where both the teacher and the learner have to take and share responsibility during the learning process. The basis of efficient cooperation is the coordination of interests and aims, the right flow of information, communication and trust. The teacher is not only the source of knowledge, but offers opportunities, gives advice, leads and facilitates, while both teacher and learner are constantly changing and developing. How can we strengthen cooperation and encourage participants to take responsibility individually, and in groups, both in and outside a language lesson? The conference's aim is to provide help, methodological tips, techniques and practical, instantly usable ideas.

After the opening plenary, lectures and workshops in English, German and Hungarian will be held in six sections. Over the course of the event our visitors will be able to gather information about the offers and latest editions of language book publishers, exam centres and other language service providers exhibiting at the event. The closing plenary will be followed by a raffle, where prizes offered by our sponsors will be drawn.

Raffle main prize: 100.000.-Ft worth of English language books, provided by MM Publications.
